

Allied Arts Nomination Process – “Heart for the Arts Award”
January 2010

Nomination Process: Deadline for nominations will be February 15th, 2010.
Appeals will be made for nominees through AAF Member Agencies, the newspaper, radio PSA’s, the Chamber Cultural Affairs Committee, as well as other appropriate contacts. Review of the nominations will be completed by March 1st, 2010.

Nominee Qualification: The nominee may be an individual or an organization. The nominee must have shown an extended and significant contribution to the promotion or improvement of the arts in Rapid City. The contribution may be financial or it may be through “hands on” work or both.

Nomination Form: The nomination form will be simple; name, address, phone, and organization/personal information will be on the top followed by a “comments” section. The comments section will be where the nominator succinctly explains the reason for the nomination. Each nomination will not exceed one page and will be submitted to the AAF office by February 15th, 2010.

Award Design: Each year a different artist will be asked to create a piece to be given to the nominee. This will allow us to feature different artists and their creativity. It will also make each award unique in itself. The featured artist will receive $200 to help them defray their expense as well as the promotion of their name and work being included in all marketing media for that year’s campaign.

The artist who will be creating the award for 2010 is Richard Dubois, a local artist and educator. Richard’s bio is available upon request.
